

Memorial Day Very Quietly Celebrated In Clearfield

True Spirit Of The Occasion Manifested By Huge Assemblage Which Assisted In Exercises At Hillcrest

REV. J. P. McCURDY DELIVERED ADDRESS

Memorial Day in Clearfield was observed yesterday with a parade and appropriate exercises at Hillcrest cemetery.

The parade which was not as large as some other years, traversed Market, Third, Reed and Second streets and thence up Market to the cemetery. The Fifth Regiment band was the only musical organization in line and a detail from Co. L 18th regiment marched in the procession and fired the salute at the grave while the company bugler sounded "taps" when the services in the cemetery were brought to a close.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were presided over by Col. James P. O'Laughlin, Rev. J. C. Collins, of the Eleventh street Methodist church, opened the exercises with a most eloquent prayer, which was followed with music by Leopold's Fifth Regiment band.

Lincoln's famous Gettysburg speech was read by Hon. J. Frank Snyder. Rev. John P. McCurdy delivered the memorial address. Rev. McCurdy is a finished orator and his address was highly entertaining and instructive, historically accurate and brim full of patriotic sentiment.

The departmental order establishing or providing for the first memorial day and issued by Col. John A. Logan, commander of the G. A. R. in 1868, was then read by Mr. O'Laughlin.

Rev. Collins then gave the benediction following which the firing squad from Company L fired a salute over the graves of the departed comrades and the bugler's "taps" ended the service, the details then proceeding to place their garlands of flowers over the graves throughout the cemetery.

WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENTS STATUE TO HIGH SCHOOL IN MEMORY OF MRS. HESS

The beautiful statue "Winged Victory" was formally presented to the Clearfield High school yesterday morning in the High School auditorium by the Woman's Club in memory of the late Mrs. Maud Bouton Hess, wife of City Engineer E. W. Hess, and daughter of Mrs. M. J. Bouton of this place. The statue which is over three feet high stands on a pedestal also three feet high, making it altogether over six feet high, the distance between the spreading wings being twenty two inches. At the base of the statue proper there is a brass plate with the following inscription: "Presented to the Clearfield High school by the Woman's Club in memory of Mrs. Maud Bouton Hess. The fact that Mrs. Hess, before her marriage had been a highly efficient teacher for a number of years, and had always been extremely interested in the progress of the Clearfield schools, makes this memorial gift all the more acceptable.

The usual devotional exercises led by Prof. Kirk preceded the presentation address which was made by Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the Club. Mrs. Thayer spoke feelingly as she paid the following tribute to Mrs. Hess.

On this beautiful Memorial Day when our thoughts (note perhaps, than for many years) are turned to these brave men, who died that their country might live and to our young men who have obeyed the call of duty and are in our training camps far and near, it seems a fitting time to honor one whom we all loved, and who was always ready when duty called.

Maud Bouton Hess was called away January 17, 1916. She was one of our Charter Members and Vice President at that time. Mrs. Hess lived with her people, and for her people, and her wise judgment and common sense made her a force for good, and endeared her to the entire community.

She was a fine type of the gentleman, of strong personality and of character. As a friend and comrade she was just and enthusiastic. Always a word of cheer for the discouraged and ever ready with suggestions for harmony and kindly feeling, she was a true and loyal friend in every sense of the word.

Just a word in regard to the statue which may be of interest at this time. The original of this "Winged Victory" which was found in the island of Somothrace is now in the Louvre in Paris. It surmounted a native offering in the form of the prow of a trireme consecrated by De Metres as a token of a naval victory won by Ptolemy in the neighborhood of the island of Somothrace about 306 B. C. We can estimate the probable age of the original at about 2223 years. Before it was mutilated the figure held in one hand a trumpet, and in the other a wooden cross which supported the wings. It advances proudly with its wings as if about to soar in the sky. It is supposed to be the work of Scopas or one of his pupils, his characteristics being carefulness of expression and a taste for movement; and of draperies being blown by the wind, so beautifully illustrated in the statue now before you. The Woman's Club in presenting this statue to the High School as a memorial to Mrs. Hess wish it might represent to the school something of what her beautiful life represented to us.

Professor Zerfoss in accepting the statue in behalf of the High School thanked the members of the Woman's Club and assured them that he greatly appreciated the thought and motive which prompted the gift. He said the gift was all the more prized because it was memorial of a member of the club whom to know was to love and who exemplified those human qualities of truth and constancy in womanhood which appeal to all cultured people. It is refreshing to be reminded, he said, by the thoughts and acts of people that there are things in the world that cannot be measured by material values. When we consider man's mission on earth we conclude that man should be good before being great. He concluded by saying that a silent influence is expressed by Art, Culture and Education, which are the great telling qualities that decide a nation's greatness and the Woman's club in choosing a memorial for Mrs. Hess have provided something from past civilization which will have an elevating influence on present culture.

Prof. Van Osten read a letter to the school from Prof. Adams who is stationed at Madison Barracks which was very clever and contained much information on Army life, and military tactics. The meeting closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. G. E. Zerfoss, Mrs. Alex Patterson, Mrs. Carrie Smith and Mrs. Warren Partridge included the committee in charge of the buying of the statue and deserve great credit and praise for the beautiful thought of giving the memorial.

Gunboat Takes Suspect En Route To Mexico

ALFRED TUBBS FATALLY HURT MEMORIAL DAY

Two Year Old Child Struck By Machine Driven By Harry
Bartley Of Second Ward

THE DRIVER BECAME EXCITED

A distressing accident which resulted in the death of Alfred, the little 2 and one half years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Tubbs, occurred on the State road in front of the Tubbs home yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The little boy was struck by a motorcycle ridden by Harry Bartley, of the Second ward, an employee of the Auto Supply company on Third street.

Bartley and Otto Eppers rode out to Woodland yesterday afternoon and were on their return when the fatal accident occurred. The Tubbs family live on the George Brett farm about midway between Clearfield and Woodland. The motorcycles were bowling along at a 25 mile an hour gait and as Bartley's machine approached the house little Alfred stepped into the road. His father was nearby and noticing the rapidly approaching machine shouted to the boy and motioned to him to stay back off the road. The child hesitated and the driver of the machine swerved toward the middle of the road to pass him, but the little fellow attempted to get across ahead of it. Young Bartley became confused and as a result the boy collided with the machine, apparently running into the side of it. He was hurled to the side of the road terribly crushed and bruised. The side of his head was crushed and his jaw dislocated.

The terribly injured little fellow was rushed to the hospital by Dr. Wilson who had been summoned, but it was of no avail, as his death occurred shortly after reaching the institution. At the coroner's inquest this morning Bartley testified that he failed to see the boy until he stepped right out on the road and that he expected to be able to run around him but that after hesitating momentarily the little fellow darted across the road and ran right into the side of the machine. He feels very badly over the terrible happening but says he was unable to avoid the collision under the circumstances.

Coroner Pollum and District Attorney Welch made an investigation this morning and following is the action of the coroner's jury:—
CORONER'S INQUISITION
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, County of Clearfield, ss.
An inquisition taken at Bradford township in the County aforesaid, the 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, before me, Dr. J. I. Pollum, Coroner of the county aforesaid, upon view of the body of Alfred Tubbs, then and there lying dead, upon the solemn oaths or affirmations respectively of Harry Hummelsbaugh, J. S. Richards, H. H. Hoover, W. I. Curley, Edward Taylor and J. S. Chaplin, six good and lawful men of the County aforesaid, charged to inquire, on the part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when, where, and by what means the said Alfred Tubbs came to his death, who, upon their respective oaths or affirmations, so say, from the view of the body and from the evidence produced before them, that the said Alfred Tubbs came to his death, on the 30th day of May, 1917, at 4 p. m., by means of an accident, being struck by a motorcycle driven by one Harry Bartley on the State Highway due to cyclist becoming excited.

In witness whereof, as well the said Coroner, as the said jurors, have to this inquisition set their hands and seals, on the day and year and at the place first above mentioned.

J. I. POLLUM, Coroner.

Anti-Conscriptionists Arrested In New York

Cincinnati Business Man Speaks in Revolutionary Terms

(By United Press) New York, May 31.—Three more arrests were made here today by Justice Department agents in a round-up of anti-conscriptionists.

Owen Catell, a Columbia University student and a son of Prof. McKay Catell of Columbia University, Chas. Francis Parker, also a student in Columbia and Eleanor Wilson Parker were taken into custody by government agents. They were charged with conspiracy in urging men between 21 and 31 not to register on June 5. They had circulated literature headed "Will you be Drafted?" While the rounding up of these anti-conscriptionists was in progress members attending the first American conference for Democracy and Peace Terms voiced disapproval of the selective service plans.

"The conscription law is both immoral and unconstitutional," said Dan Kiefer, prominent Cincinnati business man. Dr. Juda L. Magnes invited any secret service men in the audience to come to the platform. In attacking conscription Kiefer said: "We can have real democracy only when we are as anxious about it as Russia." His declaration that the nation is under "Prussian" rule was received with loud shouts of laughter in which women led. Rev. Richard W. Hague director of the Forum of Baltimore also made a speech denouncing conscription.

RECRUITING NEWS

Wilber Kerr and Bruce Jacobs, of the Fourth Ward, returned Tuesday from Bouldsburg, Pa., where they had passed the examination and were enrolled as members of Theodore Boal's machine gun company. The Boal machine gun company is composed of picked men many of whom are Clearfield county boys, and will be sure to give a good account of themselves when called upon to confront the Kaiser's minions.

Sergeants Donald Bowie and Charles O. Utter and Privates David I. Rankin and Robert L. Watson, of Company L, Eighteenth Regiment, have received orders and will leave Wednesday evening for Fort Niagara where they will take the officers' training course, being a part of the 250 national guardsmen recently privileged to strive for promotion along this line.

Julian Chase leaves tonight for Fort Totten, New York, where he goes to enter the engineers' training camp for the purpose of taking several weeks intensive training preparatory to embarking for the battle front in France.

Charles M. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, of West Pine street, having passed his preliminary examinations will report at Fort Slocum Friday for enlistment in the regular army.

GRAMPIAN CELEBRATES

Gramscian, the little town at the end of the Tyrone division, did honor to the heroes of this and past wars at a flag raising yesterday afternoon.

The afternoon was taken up with exercises and the flag was thrown to the breeze after the large Methodist church was the scene of the patriotic speechmaking. Dr. J. Currier acted as master of ceremonies in his usual and characteristic manner. The meeting was opened by Squire C. A. Wood who, after an appropriate prayer, introduced the principal speaker of the occasion, Mr. John M. Urey, of Clearfield. Mr. Urey spoke along patriotic lines and reviewed the situation as to where this country stands today in the world war; the causes leading up to our country's entry and the probable outcome.

The Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls had prominent parts in the program and by their whole hearted entry into the spirit of the occasion showed what our country may expect from them in case of need.

WINBURNE SETS FAST PAGE AT CELEBRATION

Mining Village Of Cosmopolitan Population Turns Out In Loyalty Demonstration

OVER THOUSAND IN PARADE

Winburne, the busy little metropolis of Cooper township, did itself proud yesterday in its celebration of Memorial Day. American-born and by adoption, carried out en masse to do honor to the men who laid their lives on the altar of freedom some fifty years ago and also to honor the boys of '17 who are offering their services to their country in this, her hour of need.

The day broke with a burst of sunshine, a welcome break in the rainy weather we have been experiencing.

Early in the morning delegations of the various patriotic societies wended their ways to the several cemeteries and laid beautiful flowers on the graves of the departed men who have answered to "Taps" for the last time.

Shortly after the noon hour signs of an immense crowd began to appear and Winburne was the Mecca for the people for miles around. About every sort of vehicle was in evidence with the inevitable "benzene buggy" in the majority. The two o'clock car from Philipsburg brought the Morrisdale Band and a delegation of the Rescue Hook and Ladder Co., from Philipsburg who were to take part in the exercises. Promptly at two o'clock the bell on the Presbyterian church was rung and at this signal the concourse started on its march through the principal streets of this thriving little mining town.

It was by far the greatest turnout of its kind that was ever witnessed and Chief Marshall G. W. Balfour and his aides, Charles Devinney and William George deserve a high measure of praise for the promptness and clever handling of the marchers.

The lead was taken by "Old Glory" with a color guard of the leading business men and clergy of the town and then followed the bands, the school children the First Aid teams of the local mines and the Grass Flat teams. Then came the local chapter of the Red Cross headed by its President Mrs. J. M. Laurie. This was followed by the civic organizations and bringing up the rear were two societies of men whose native land we are now trying to conquer. The Home Guard, a local military organization, in charge of Fred Buner, an ex-marine, made an excellent showing and showed that they were ready for any emergencies that might arise.

On the hill at the Cooper Township High school the speaker's stand had been erected. At the breaking of the parade the immense crowd repaired to points of vantage around the stand and after some ensemble singing by the school children, a beautiful American flag was thrown to the breeze. R. D. Nuttal, president of the First National bank of Philipsburg in a few well chosen remarks introduced Blake Hoover, of Washington, D. C. who is working under the direction of the National Chapter of the Red Cross who outlined the work of this wonderful organization. Mr. Hoover was followed by Rev. Lundmark, pastor of the Swedish church who addressed his people in their native tongue as did also the Rev. Paul Kish who spoke in Hungarian.

Following these came the orator of the day, Hon. W. I. Swoope, of Clearfield, who made one of the most patriotic speeches ever heard in Winburne. He had his audience with him from the first and it was with rapt attention that native and alien alike listened to his utterances of patriotism.

Following the speaking the First Aid team from the mines gave exhibitions of the methods used in rendering first aid to injured men. By their deft manipulation they demonstrated that any man injured while at the more or less precarious occupation of mining coal would receive the most scientific care until the arrival of a physician.

What The Red Cross Really Is. A Plain, Authoritative Statement

The Purpose Of This Article Is To Bring To All In The Community A Clear Understanding Of Duty

By J. Frank Snyder

Chairman, Clearfield Pennsylvania
Chapter, American Red Cross

The Red Cross was organized for the purpose of softening the evils inseparable from war. Its history and development is particularly interesting and instructive at this time.

M. Henri Durant, the Swiss humanitarian, was touring Italy in 1859, and was caught in the awful carnage of the battle of Solferino. He organized and headed volunteers in ministering to and caring for the wounded on the field of battle. Durant upon his return to his native land advocated the organization of volunteer associations for this work with the result that, on August 22, 1864, the representatives of the Swiss confederation, and the representatives of certain European states concluded a convention at Geneva, Switzerland.

The States represented "being equally animated with the desire to soften, as much as depends on them, the evils of warfare, to suppress its useless hardships and improve the fate of wounded soldiers on the field of battle," concluded "a treaty known as the Treaty of Geneva. This compact established the neutrality of ambulances and military hospitals, and of all persons engaged in the service thereof, as well as of the country bringing help to the wounded."

The hospitals were required to display a distinctive flag (a Greek Red Cross on a white ground) and badges similarly distinguished were allowed individuals entitled to the benefit of neutrality—hence the name RED CROSS.

The Treaty of Geneva was not ratified by the United States until March 1, 1882, and the treaty itself has been several times explained and its terms modified, so that today they are in harmony with the most humanitarian views with respect to the treatment of the sick and the wounded in times of war.

The conference of Geneva held in 1864, to which the United States was a party, is the last one held and the terms then adopted control in the present world war. One of the requirements adopted at this conference is that "Each state shall make known to the other, either in time of peace or at the opening, or during the progress of hostilities, and in any case before actual employment, the names of the societies which it has authorized to render assistance, under its responsibility, in the official sanitary service of its armies."

The American National Red Cross, the present organization was incorporated, January 5, 1905, by congress, and the act of incorporation provides, among other things, as follows: "and the corporation hereby created is designated as the organization which is authorized to act in matters of relief under said treaty. (Treaty of Geneva, 1864) In accordance with article seven of the treaty, the delivery of individuals neutralized in time of war shall be left to military authority."

It is well, therefore, to remember that the American National Red Cross is the official organization of these United States to act in matters of relief under the Treaty of Geneva which governs in the present crisis; that its duty authorized personnel and its goods are neutralized under the treaty, and are not liable to capture as belligerents or seizure as contraband of war.

The by-laws of the American National Red Cross lodge all power of government, direction and management, conferred upon it by the Act of Congress creating the corporation, in a body to be known as the American Red Cross General board. The local chapters are authorized by and are under the control of this general board or central committee. This central committee has recognized a chapter at Clearfield, Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross.

The purposes of the American National Red Cross, as set out in the Act of Congress are, in part as follows:

First To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war, in accordance with the spirit and conditions of the conference of Geneva of October, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, and also of the treaty of the Red Cross, or the treaty of Geneva, of August twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, to which the United States of America gave its adhesion on March first, eighteen hundred and eighty-two.

Second: And for said purpose to perform all the duties devolved upon a national society for each nation which has acceded to said treaty.

Fourth: To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their Army and Navy.

OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

The most successful Memorial Day celebration ever held at Curwensville was that enjoyed by the record breaking concourse that attended it. An inspiring sight was the great street parade in its two divisions with their two bands, military and civic organizations, school children, marshalled by Capt. I. B. Norris, the first division marched to the music of the Keystone Cornet Band. What bearing is that of the men from Co. L, 16th Regt. N. G. P. as they passed along our streets in the parade. Bethesda Lodge No. 821, I. O. O. F., had a good delegation in line. The Knights of Pythias in turn were followed by the men of Illini Tribe, No. 382, I. O. R. M., in their characteristic garb of the aborigines. The Jr. O. U. A. M., L. O. O. M., U. M. W. A. and Slavonic Society closed the first division.

The second division was led by the Crescent Band. Mention that the Rescue H. & L. Co. followed suggests the fact that the spectators enjoyed the drilling of the "fire ladders." Those useful boys, the Boy Scouts, were in line. How hearts swelled at the sight of the long line of marching school children led by girls bearing large flags of the Allies and garbed in their colors with Columbia likewise.

Members of the Borough Council, School Board, the clergy, ladies of the G. A. R., John Kratzer Post, and other veterans, were conveyed in automobiles. Arriving at the Oak Hill Cemetery, the veterans and the ladies of the G. A. R. held their usual exercises. After the graves had been decorated, the following program was given on the cemetery hillside, an excellent meeting place. An overture by the Keystone Cornet band was followed by the invocation by Rev. Joseph H. Cooke. The assemblage sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and the Crescent Band rendered appropriate music. In felicitous words R. D. Swoope, Esq. introduced the orator of the day, Rev. W. W. Hartman, D. D., of Clearfield, whose address not only extolled the heroes of 1861 but called for the highest spirit of patriotism in 1917. America was sung by the assemblage and Rev. L. P. Hawkins dismissed the gathering with the benediction. The parade at the conclusion of the program counter-marched to the main street where it was dismissed. The Red Cross workers not only tagged a large number of people but also enrolled a large number of new members to the Auxiliary which now boasts of over sixty members. Weather was fine there was most commendable order, plans very apparent were well made, no known mishap occurred; so that it was the most successful Memorial Day ever held here.

William H. Kustaborder, of Bellwood, was a caller at the Baptist parsonage Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutton, daughter, Miss Ruth, and son, Cyrus, of DuBois, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al McNaul.

Beans as a window decoration is a new idea as illustrated by the flag thus shown by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company on State street.

Lewis E. Whitman lost nearly all of his household goods and all the clothing of his family save that worn at the time, for the house occupied by that family in Patton Addition was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The house owned by the Building and Loan Association of this place, was insured, but no insurance had been placed on the tenant's household effects. The origin of the fire was probably due to a defective fuse. Nearby houses were in great danger, escaping only after suffering much from the water used, but had there been an adequate supply of water the losses would not have been so serious.

This calamity prostrated Mrs. Whitman who had not been very well. The sympathy of the community goes out to this unfortunate family and doubtless will show itself in a tangible and practical form later.

This section of the borough being without fire protection and the nearest water plug being on Filbert street by the Cal's store, it is hoped the borough will take action promptly regarding the matter, as most all the residents in Patton Addition and North Filbert street are borough taxpayers.

Here Joe was conspicuous as a helper in the Methodist church, having held almost every office in the gift of the Sunday school and Epworth League. Joe was a good boxer and a powerful brick yard man. Two wives of our boys, Marie Fugel and Steve Stoenberg, are also working at their work. Joe is superintendent over them in a local to our N. Y. C. chapter, P. T. Kyles.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this method of returning sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors who so generously assisted me during the illness and death of my beloved husband. The many kindnesses shown during this trying time will ever be gratefully remembered. The death of my husband and the death of my dear wife, leaving me alone, is a great trial to me. I am deeply indebted to the friends who have so generously assisted me.

PROMINENT FAMILY LEAVES FOR NEW HOME AT OLEAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gould and accomplished daughter, Doris Luella, departed on the morning flyer for Olean, N. Y., where Mr. Gould has entered the furniture business. Kenneth, their only son, will remain here until after commencement when he expects to enter either the University at Buffalo or Dartmouth College.

A farewell party was recently given Mrs. Gould by her neighbors and friends who very much regret to lose Mrs. Gould, a charming hostess, from their circle. Miss Doris Luella will be well and favorably remembered as the twelve year old musical prodigy of the Susquehanna College of Music. Her piano recitals have been a source of pleasure to local lovers of music and the admiration of Dean Thayer of the College.

Mr. Gould's business career in Clearfield has been extensive and prosperous. His first venture here was a five and ten cent store which was a success and which he later sold to the McCrory interests. He then embarked in the shoe business and was likewise successful in that. For two years he served as president of the merchant's bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and was rated as a conservative business man whose judgement and advice was always sound.

A host of friends are sorry to see this excellent family leave the city of Clearfield.

SEEMS EVERYONE HEARD ABOUT IT

All want to try new drug that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

and to act in such matters between similar societies of other governments through the "Comite International de Secours," and the government and the people and the Army and Navy of the United States.

Fifth: And to continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same.

Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, is the president of the American National Red Cross, and the Act of Congress requires this corporation to "make and transmit to the Secretary of War a report of its proceedings for the preceding year, including a full, complete and itemized report of receipts and expenditures of whatever kind, which report shall be duly audited by the war department, and a copy of said report shall be transmitted to congress by the war department."

Any citizen or resident of the United States or of its dependencies may become a member of the American Red Cross by paying the membership dues of one dollar per year. Membership imposes no obligation of personal service either in time of war or peace.

The mission of the American Red Cross in the present world war will be to first care for our own soldiers and then to help the destitute of the countries of our allies. As has been said above the American Red Cross is the legalized agency to carry on this work for the people of the United States.

The President of the United States has proclaimed the week beginning June 18th and ending June 25th, 1917 as Red Cross week. During this week the American Red Cross will undertake to raise one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000.00) to be used first in the care of our own soldiers, and then to relieve the millions of destitute in the devastated countries of our allies. It is told us that in northern France alone there are 3 millions of people who will starve unless relief gets to them soon—they are homeless and have absolutely nothing.

An appeal will be made to our people residing within the jurisdiction of the Clearfield Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross, to do their part in this great humane work, and a vigorous campaign will be waged during the week beginning June 18th, the plans of which will be announced later.

The Clearfield Chapter will make an effort to organize branches and auxiliaries in every town and village within its jurisdiction and will ask the people to come in and lend a helping hand in this great work.

The purpose of this article is to impress upon our people the fact that the American Red Cross is the agency provided by Act of Congress to perform this special work under the Treaty of Geneva which controls and regulates our activities in the present war. The American Red Cross is the agency that must look after and care for the Clearfield boys who have enlisted and our sons who may be called into the service of our country, and of the brave soldiers from every part of our land. Its mission should appeal to every one because it reaches and cares for the sick and wounded upon the field of battle and saves the destitute. Each man and woman and child can do his or her part, be it ever so little, and every one in due time be given an opportunity, will be asked to help—the motto of the American Red Cross is HELPFULNESS.

Memorial Day Very Quietly Celebrated In Clearfield

True Spirit Of The Occasion Manifested By Huge Assemblage Which Assisted In Exercises At Hillcrest

REV. J. P. McCURDY DELIVERED ADDRESS

Memorial Day in Clearfield was observed yesterday with a parade and appropriate exercises at Hillcrest cemetery.

The parade which was not as large as some other years, traversed Market, Third, Reed and Second streets and thence up Market to the cemetery. The Fifth Regiment band was the only musical organization in line and a detail from Co. L 18th regiment marched in the procession and fired the salute at the grave while the company bugler sounded "taps" when the services in the cemetery were brought to a close.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were presided over by Col. James P. O'Laughlin, Rev. J. C. Collins, of the Eleventh street Methodist church, opened the exercises with a most eloquent prayer, which was followed with music by Leopold's Fifth Regiment band.

Lincoln's famous Gettysburg speech was read by Hon. J. Frank Snyder. Rev. John P. McCurdy delivered the memorial address. Rev. McCurdy is a finished orator and his address was highly entertaining and instructive, historically accurate and brim full of patriotic sentiment.

The departmental order establishing or providing for the first memorial day and issued by Col. John A. Logan, commander of the G. A. R. in 1868, was then read by Mr. O'Laughlin.

Rev. Collins then gave the benediction following which the firing squad from Company L fired a salute over the graves of the departed comrades and the bugler's "taps" ended the service, the details then proceeding to place their garlands of flowers over the graves throughout the cemetery.

ALFRED TUBBS FATALY HURT MEMORIAL DAY

Two Year Old Child Struck By Machine Driven By Harry Bartley Of Second Ward

THE DRIVER BECAME EXCITED

A distressing accident which resulted in the death of Alfred, the little 2 and one half years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Tubbs, occurred on the State road in front of the Tubbs home yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The little boy was struck by a motorcycle ridden by Harry Bartley, of the Second ward, an employee of the Auto Supply company on Third street.

Bartley and Otto Eppers rode out to Woodland yesterday afternoon and were on their return when the fatal accident occurred. The Tubbs family live on the George Brett farm about midway between Clearfield and Woodland. The motorcycle was bowling along at a 25 mile an hour gait and as Bartley's machine approached the house little Alfred stepped into the road. His father was nearby and noticing the rapidly approaching machine shouted to the boy and motioned to him to stay back off the road. The child hesitated and the driver of the machine swerved toward the middle of the road to pass him, but the little fellow attempted to get across ahead of it. Young Bartley became confused and as a result the boy collided with the machine, apparently running into the side of it. He was hurled to the side of the road terribly crushed and bruised. The side of his head was crushed and his jaw dislocated.

The terribly injured little fellow was rushed to the hospital by Dr. Wilson who had been summoned, but it was of no avail, as his death occurred shortly after reaching the institution. At the coroner's inquest this morning Bartley testified that he failed to see the boy until he stepped right out on the road and that he expected to be able to run around him but that after hesitating momentarily the little fellow darted across the road and ran right into the side of the machine. He feels very badly over the terrible happening but says he was unable to avoid the collision under the circumstances.

Coroner Pollum and District Attorney Welch made an investigation this morning and following is the action of the coroner's jury:—

CORONER'S INQUISITION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, County of Clearfield, ss.

An inquisition taken at Bradford township in the County aforesaid, the 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, before me, Dr. J. I. Pollum, Coroner of the county aforesaid, upon view of the body of Alfred Tubbs, then and there lying dead, upon the solemn oaths or affirmations respectively of Harry Hummelbaugh, J. S. Richards, H. H. Hoover, W. I. Curley, Edward Taylor and J. S. Chaplin, six good and lawful men of the County aforesaid, charged to inquire, on the part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when, where, and by what means the said Alfred Tubbs came to his death, who, upon their respective oaths or affirmations, so say, from the view of the body and from the evidence produced before them, that the said Alfred Tubbs came to his death, on the 30th day of May, 1917, at 4 p. m., by means of an accident, being struck by a motorcycle driven by one Harry Bartley on the State Highway due to cyclist becoming excited.

In witness whereof, as well the said Coroner, as the said jurors, have to this inquisition set their hands and seals, on the day and year and at the place first above mentioned.

J. I. POLLUM, Coroner.

Anti-Conscriptionists Arrested In New York

Cincinnati Business Man Speaks in Revolutionary Terms

(By United Press) New York, May 31.—Three more arrests were made here today by Justice Department agents in a round-up of anti-conscriptionists.

Owen Catell, a Columbia University student and a son of Prof. McKay Catell of Columbia University, Chas. Francis Parker, also a student in Columbia and Eleanor Wilson Parker were taken into custody by government agents. They were charged with conspiracy in urging men between 21 and 31 not to register on June 5. They had circulated literature headed "Will you be Drafted?" While the rounding up of these anti-conscriptionists was in progress members attending the first American conference for Democracy and Peace Terms voiced disapproval of the selective service plans.

"The conscription law is both immoral and unconstitutional," said Dan Kiefer, prominent Cincinnati business man. Dr. Juda L. Magnes invited any secret service men in the audience to come to the platform. In attacking conscription Kiefer said: "We can have real democracy only when we are as anxious about it as Russia." His declaration that the nation is under "Prussian" rule was received with loud shouts of laughter in which women led. Rev. Richard W. Hague director of the Forum of Baltimore also made a speech denouncing conscription.

RECRUITING NEWS

Wilber Kerr and Bruce Jacobs, of the Fourth Ward, returned Tuesday from Bouldsburg, Pa., where they had passed the examination and were enrolled as members of Theodore Boal's machine gun company. The Boal machine gun company is composed of picked men many of whom are Clearfield county boys, and will be sure to give a good account of themselves when called upon to confront the Kaiser's minions.

Sergeants Donald Bowie and Charles O. Utter and Privates David I. Rankin and Robert L. Watson, of Company L, Eighteenth Regiment, have received orders and will leave Wednesday evening for Fort Niagara where they will take the officers' training course, being a part of the 250 national guardsmen recently privileged to strive for promotion along this line.

Julian Chase leaves tonight for Fort Totten, New York, where he goes to enter the engineers' training camp for the purpose of taking several weeks intensive training preparatory to embarking for the battle front in France.

Charles M. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, of West Pine street, having passed his preliminary examinations will report at Fort Slocum Friday for enlistment in the regular army.

GRAMPIAN CELEBRATES

Gramscian, the little town at the end of the Tyrone division, did honor to the heroes of this and past wars at a flag raising yesterday afternoon.

The afternoon was taken up with exercises and the flag was thrown to the breeze after the large Methodist church was the scene of the patriotic speechmaking. Dr. J. Currier acted as master of ceremonies in his usual and characteristic manner. The meeting was opened by Squire C. A. Wood who, after an appropriate prayer, introduced the principal speaker of the occasion, Mr. John M. Urey, of Clearfield. Mr. Urey spoke along patriotic lines and reviewed the situation as to where this country stands today in the world war; the causes leading up to our country's entry and the probable outcome.

The Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls had prominent parts in the program and by their whole hearted entry into the spirit of the occasion showed what our country may expect from them in case of need.

WINBURNE SETS FAST PACE AT CELEBRATION

Mining Village Of Cosmopolitan Population Turns Out In Loyalty Demonstration

OVER THOUSAND IN PARADE

Winburne, the busy little metropolis of Cooper township, did itself proud yesterday in its celebration of Memorial Day. American born and by adoption, carried out en masse to do honor to the men who laid their lives on the altar of freedom some fifty years ago and also to honor the boys of '17 who are offering their services to their country in this, her hour of need.

The day broke with a burst of sunshine, a welcome break in the rainy weather we have been experiencing.

Early in the morning delegations of the various patriotic societies wended their ways to the several cemeteries and laid beautiful flowers on the graves of the departed men who have answered to "Taps" for the last time.

Shortly after the noon hour signs of an immense crowd began to appear and Winburne was the Mecca for the people for miles around. About every sort of vehicle was in evidence with the inevitable "benzene buggy" in the majority. The two o'clock car from Phillipsburg brought the Morrisdale Band and a delegation of the Rescue Hook and Ladder Co., from Phillipsburg who were to take part in the exercises. Promptly at two o'clock the bell on the Presbyterian church was rung and at this signal the concourse started on its march through the principal streets of this thriving little mining town.

It was by far the greatest turnout of its kind that was ever witnessed and Chief Marshall G. W. Balfour and his aides, Charles Devinney and William George deserve a high measure of praise for the promptness and clever handling of the marchers.

The lead was taken by "Old Glory" with a color guard of the leading business men and clergy of the town and then followed the bands, the school children the First Aid teams of the local mines and the Grass Flat teams. Then came the local chapter of the Red Cross headed by its President Mrs. J. M. Laurie. This was followed by the civic organizations and bringing up the rear were two societies of men whose native land we are now trying to conquer.

Following these came the orator of the day, Hon. W. I. Swoope, of Clearfield, who made one of the most patriotic speeches ever heard in Winburne. He had his audience with him from the first and it was with rapt attention that native and alien alike listened to his utterances of patriotism.

Following the speaking the First Aid team from the mines gave exhibitions of the methods used in rendering first aid to injured men. By their deft manipulation they demonstrated that any man injured while at the more or less precarious occupation of mining coal would receive the most scientific care until the arrival of a physician.

What The Red Cross Really Is. A Plain, Authoritative Statement

The Purpose Of This Article Is To Bring To All In The Community A Clear Understanding Of Duty

By J. Frank Snyder

Chairman, Clearfield Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross

The Red Cross was organized for the purpose of softening the evils inseparable from war. Its history and development is particularly interesting and instructive at this time.

M. Henri Durant, the Swiss humanitarian, was touring Italy in 1859, and was caught in the awful carnage of the battle of Solferino. He organized and headed volunteers in ministering to and caring for the wounded on the field of battle. Durant upon his return to his native land advocated the organization of volunteer associations for this work with the result that, on August 22, 1864, the representatives of the Swiss confederation, and the representatives of certain European states concluded a convention at Geneva, Switzerland.

The States represented "being equally animated with the desire to soften, as much as depends on them, the evils of warfare, to suppress its useless hardships and improve the fate of wounded soldiers on the field of battle," concluded "a treaty known as the Treaty of Geneva. This compact established the neutrality of ambulances and military hospitals, and of all persons engaged in the service thereof, as well as of the country bringing help to the wounded."

The hospitals were required to display a distinctive flag (a Greek Red Cross on a white ground) and badges similarly distinguished were allowed individuals entitled to the benefit of neutrality—hence the name RED CROSS.

The Treaty of Geneva was not ratified by the United States until March 1, 1882, and the treaty itself has been several times explained and its terms modified, so that today they are in harmony with the most humanitarian views with respect to the treatment of the sick and the wounded in times of war.

The conference of Geneva held in 1864, to which the United States was a party, is the last one held and the terms then adopted control in the present world war. One of the requirements adopted at this conference is that "Each state shall make known to the other, either in time of peace or at the opening, or during the progress of hostilities, and in any case before actual employment, the names of the societies which it has authorized to render assistance, under its responsibility, in the official sanitary service of its armies."

The American National Red Cross, the present organization was incorporated, January 5, 1905, by congress, and the act of incorporation provides, among other things, as follows: "and the corporation hereby created is designated as the organization which is authorized to act in matters of relief under said treaty. (Treaty of Geneva, 1864) In accordance with article seven of the treaty, the delivery of individuals neutralized in time of war shall be left to military authority."

It is well, therefore, to remember that the American National Red Cross is the official organization of these United States to act in matters of relief under the Treaty of Geneva which governs in the present crisis; that its duty authorized personnel and its goods are neutralized under the treaty, and are not liable to capture as belligerents or seizure as contraband of war.

The by-laws of the American National Red Cross lodge all power of government, direction and management, conferred upon it by the Act of Congress creating the corporation, in a body to be known as the American Red Cross General Board. The local chapters are authorized by and are under the control of this general board or central committee. This central committee has recognized a chapter at Clearfield, Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross.

The purposes of the American National Red Cross, as set out in the Act of Congress are, in part as follows:

First To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war, in accordance with the spirit and conditions of the conference of Geneva of October, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, and also of the treaty of the Red Cross, or the treaty of Geneva, of August twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, to which the United States of America gave its adhesion on March first, eighteen hundred and eighty-two.

Second: And for said purpose to perform all the duties devolved upon a national society for each nation which has acceded to said treaty.

Fourth: To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their Army and Navy.

WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENTS STATUE TO HIGH SCHOOL IN MEMORY OF MRS. HESS

The beautiful statue "Winged Victory" was formally presented to the Clearfield High school yesterday morning in the High School auditorium by the Woman's Club in memory of the late Mrs. Maud Bouton Hess, wife of City Engineer E. W. Hess, and daughter of Mrs. M. J. Bouton of this place. The statue which is over three feet high stands on a pedestal also three feet high, making it altogether over six feet high, the distance between the spreading wings being twenty two inches. At the base of the statue proper there is a brass plate with the following inscription: "Presented to the Clearfield High school by the Woman's Club in memory of Mrs. Maud Bouton Hess. The fact that Mrs. Hess, before her marriage had been a highly efficient teacher for a number of years, and had always been extremely interested in the progress of the Clearfield schools, makes this memorial gift all the more acceptable.

The usual devotional exercises led by Prof. Kirk preceded the presentation address which was made by Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the Club. Mrs. Thayer spoke feelingly as she paid the following tribute to Mrs. Hess.

On this beautiful Memorial Day when our thoughts (note perhaps, than for many years) are turned to these brave men, who died that their country might live and to our young men who have obeyed the call of duty and are in our training camps far and near, it seems a fitting time to honor one whom we all loved, and who was always ready when duty called.

Maud Bouton Hess was called away January 17, 1916. She was one of our Charter Members and Vice President at that time. Mrs. Hess lived with her people, and for her people, and her wise judgment and common sense made her a force for good, and endeared her to the entire community.

She was a fine type of the gentleman, of strong personality and of character. As a friend and comrade she was just and enthusiastic. Always a word of cheer for the discouraged and ever ready with suggestions for harmony and kindly feeling, she was a true and loyal friend in every sense of the word.

Just a word in regard to the statue which may be of interest at this time. The original of this "Winged Victory" which was found in the island of Somothrace is now in the Louvre in Paris. It surmounted a native offering in the form of the prow of a trireme consecrated by De Metres as a token of a naval victory won by Ptolemy in the neighborhood of the island of Somothrace about 306 B. C. We can estimate the probable age of the original at about 2223 years. Before it was mutilated the figure held in one hand a trumpet, and in the other a wooden cross which supported the trumpet. It advances proudly with its wings as if about to soar in the sky. It is supposed to be the work

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1917

War has brought before us as beings in fact, the Red Cross, the Liberty Loan and Registration Day. Each deserves our heartiest support.

Cool weather and war uncertainties have conspired to dampen the ardor of county candidates and aside from quiet wire pulling, the "dear voter" is being allowed a breathing spell without being asked four times a day to pledge his vote to some "savior of his country."

We rave at the horrors of war and should our enemy take the life of a civilian of Clearfield county or maim another the whole county would fly in a rage. We pass over the danger from speed maniacs suffering from auto intoxication and throw the blanket of the term of accident over he who forgets the rights of men, women and children to their share of the public highway. There are a few real accidents but that there are not more of the thick-skulled variety of maniacs who try to pass everything on the road huddled to death by collisions and other mishaps is accounted for only by the old saying that "the Devil takes care of his own."

DEFENCE IS RECIPROCAL

One final result that should come from this war is a deeper realization of the duties of citizenship. Ignorance of those duties is being manifested in the most surprising ways and in undreamed of places. For instance, there is an organization under the high sounding title of "Conscientious Objectors" attempting a propaganda of opposition to the enforcement of the conscription law. In no other way could treasonable "aid and comfort" be more effectively given the enemy, yet men who claim to be loyal citizens are included in this treason propaganda.

Some such men may be honest in their attitude; if so, they manifest an appalling ignorance of what citizenship means. Let such a man ask himself why it is that he can retreat at any hour unarmed and unafraid. Why can he retire at night and say "I will both lay me to rest, and sleep?" Why is it that he can work or business feeling sure that the fruits of his labor will remain safe within his hand; that he can acquire lands and acquire lands, and the man who is at he will not challenge his right thereto? Simply because the State defends him. Should he assault him, or attempt by force to take his State will defend him with still greater force. The State recognizes that wrongful force at law abiding can only be repelled and subdued, order maintained by meeting it with all needful citizen is secure in his home and in his inst the State by an outside enemy can only be defended and protected the citizen and given as which few peoples on earth enjoy. That a reciprocal duty of defence to the State that him. He cannot accept all the benefits and keep the obligations.

The State should say to such a one: "If you send me I shall from this time forth refuse my to you." Henceforth there would be no law hogs might beat, rob and maim him; thieves might steal from him, and the one who was rive him from his home and take possession, fence would be in his own right arm.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

WHAT WAS IN THE WELL

(Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.)
S OON as daddy had finished his cigar, he began this story for the children. An old soldier, Kurt, once earned his night's lodging and some food by chopping up a cartload of wood for an old witch.
"He did not finish his task till toward night. Then he found himself so tired that he begged a night's rest from her. This was the third night he had stayed at the witch's hut. This time she granted his plea only on the pledge of his word that the next day he would fetch her up the blue light that burned at the bottom of her well."
"When morning came the old witch led Kurt to the well, tied him to a long rope and let him down, down."
"At the bottom of the well, sure enough, just as the old witch had said, he found the blue light she wanted. So he pulled on the rope as a signal to her to draw him up again. But when she had pulled him up as near the top that she could reach the blue light she said, 'Give me the light; I will take care of it.'"
"Now Kurt was too much of an old soldier to trust the witch. He knew that she meant to play him a trick by grabbing the light and letting him fall back to the bottom of the well."
"Seeing through her crafty thoughts, he said: 'No, no. I shall not give you the light till I find myself safe out of the well.'"
"At this the old witch became very angry. And though the light was what she had longed for many and many a year without ever having found anybody to go down into the well and fetch it for her, her rage and spite were so great that she dashed the old soldier and his prize, too, right down to the bottom of the well."
"There poor old Kurt lay motionless, full of despair on the damp mud in the well. He felt that life had come, for how to get out of the well he could not understand."
"He felt about and soon discovered that his pipe happened to be in his pocket, still half full of tobacco. So he said to himself: 'It may as well have the fun of smoking out my pipe. It is the last pleasure I shall ever have.'"
"So Kurt lit his pipe at the blue light and began to puff away like a chimney."
"Up rose a cloud of smoke, and all of a sudden a little black dwarf with a hump on his back and a little feather in his cap was seen making his way through the smoke," daddy finished.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty skin, have a dull, aching head, salivary complexion, acid stomach, others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Y. M. C. A. Workers On The Texas Border

Forty Y. M. C. A. Camps Have Been Erected for Soldier's Use at Front

Thousands of young men, some little more than big boys, were suddenly transplanted last June from home life to military camps along the Mexican border. When loneliness, discontent and homesickness swept over these lads, one institution provided a measure of home environment and social intercourse that eased adjustment and prevented dissipation. This institution was the Young Men's Christian Association whose machinery was started in operation the moment that the call came for mobilization of the National Guard. Experienced secretaries of the Army and Navy Department of the association, equipment and supplies were hurried to San Antonio and El Paso which were selected as field headquarters. As troops arrived at camping places the erection of the association buildings was rushed to completion, sometimes by hired carpenters, in other cases by the troops themselves, military commanders giving full cooperation.

By October 1st, forty buildings had been erected in camps extending from Brownsville to the Gulf of Mexico to San Diego on the Pacific Ocean. Most of these are of simple frame construction, 40 by 80 feet in dimensions, so well ventilated that they proved the coolest places in camp during the hot summer. They are the best lighted and most cheerful spots on the border. Each center has a staff of from two to five secretaries.

At first the writing tables and the free writing materials were the most popular offering. As many as 2,500 letters a day were dropped in the letter box; there are still few buildings where the present output of correspondence is less than 1,000 letters a day.

Among newer features, such as entertainments given by the troops themselves, music, lectures and reading room facilities, the greatest attraction is the motion pictures. One or more structures in every camp possess a "movie" equipment and in many where the buildings will not accommodate the crowds the screen is set up out of doors. Along with social activities there are church services on Sunday and at mid-week and Bible classes.

The temptation of prostitution, common to all military camps, is present on the Mexican border. To counteract this the Y. M. C. A. has conducted a clean living campaign with a series of effective addresses, supplemented by the organization of committees and personal interviews. Thousands of men have signed what is known as the clean living card of the Army Y. M. C. A.

No men appreciate the work of the Y. M. C. A. more than some 40,000 soldiers, most of them regulars, on patrol duty in the Big Bend District of Texas, where some troops are 80 miles from the nearest railroad station. Two traveling secretaries with an automobile, truck of supplies, a portable electric light plant and a motion picture machine are continually visiting from camp to camp. Visits of two or three days are made at each camp; motion pictures shown and photograph concerts given. There are talks to the men, and stationery, magazines and books are left behind for their use.

In September a Y. M. C. A. expedition of three motor trucks went down the line of General Pershing's communications in Mexico, leaving large quantities of writing materials, magazines and other supplies at each camp of his command.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre To Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

CURWENSVILLE

The most successful Memorial Day celebration ever held at Curwensville was that enjoyed by the record breaking concourse that attended it. An inspiring sight was the great street parade in its two divisions with their two bands, military and civic organizations, school children, marshalled by Capt. I. B. Norris, the first division marched to the music of the Keystone Cornet Band. What bearing is that of the men from Co. L, 16th Regt. N. G. P. as they passed along our streets in the parade. Bethesda Lodge No. 821, I. O. O. F., had a good delegation in line. The Knights of Pythias in turn were followed by the men of Illini Tribe, No. 382, I. O. O. F. M., in their characteristic garb of the aborigines. The Jr. O. U. A. M., L. O. O. M., U. M. W. A. and Slavonic Society closed the first division.

The second division was led by the Crescent Band. Mention that the Rescue H. & L. Co. followed suggests the fact that the spectators enjoyed the drilling of the "fire ladders." Those useful boys, the Boy Scouts, were in line. How hearts swelled at the sight of the long line of marching school children led by girls bearing large flags of the Allies and garbed in their colors with Columbia likewise.

Members of the Borough Council, School Board, the clergy, ladies of the G. A. R., John Kratzer Post, and other veterans, were conveyed in automobiles. Arriving at the Oak Hill Cemetery, the veterans and the ladies of the G. A. R. held their usual exercises. After the graves had been decorated, the following program was given on the cemetery hillside, an excellent meeting place. An overture by the Keystone Cornet band was followed by the invocation by Rev. Joseph H. Cooke. The assemblage sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and the Crescent Band rendered appropriate music. In felicitous words R. D. Swoope, Esq. introduced the orator of the day, Rev. W. W. Hartman, D. D., of Clearfield, whose address not only extolled the heroes of 1861 but called for the highest spirit of patriotism in 1917. America was sung by the assemblage and Rev. L. P. Hawkins dismissed the gathering with the benediction. The parade at the conclusion of the program counter-marched to the main street where it was dismissed. The Red Cross workers not only tagged a large number of people but also enrolled a large number of new members to the Auxiliary which now boasts of over sixty members. Weather was fine there was most commendable order, plans very apparent were well made; no known mishap occurred; so that it was the most successful Memorial Day ever held here.

William H. Kustaborder, of Bellwood, was a caller at the Baptist parsonage Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutton, daughter, Miss Ruth, and son, Cyrus, of DuBois, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al McNaul.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap, of Houtzdale, spent Memorial Day with relatives in town.

Mrs. Wm. Norris, of Grampian, spent yesterday at the home of Lieut. John H. Norris and wife of George street.

Frederick Kittelberger, employed by the engineering department of the H. C. Frick Coke company, at Scottdale, Pa., is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kittelberger.

Miss Grace McClure was a Memorial Day visitor from Grampian.

Mrs. I. D. Kerns, of Brockport, was a Memorial Day visitor.

Mrs. B. J. Sykes, of Clearfield, spent Wednesday afternoon in town.

Lewis E. Whitman lost nearly all of his household goods and all the clothing of his family save that worn at the time, for the house occupied by that family in Patton Addition was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The house owned by the Building and Loan Association of this place, was insured, but no insurance had been placed on the tenant's household effects. The origin of the fire was probably due to a defective fuse. Nearby houses were in great danger, escaping only after suffering much from the water used, but had there been an adequate supply of water the losses would not have been so serious. This calamity prostrated Mrs. Whitman who had not been very well. The sympathy of the community goes out to this unfortunate family and doubtless will show itself in a tangible and practical form later.

This section of the borough being without fire protection and the nearest water plug being on Filbert street by the Cal's store, it is hoped the borough will take action promptly regarding the matter, as most all the residents in Patton Addition and North Filbert street are borough taxpayers.

PROMINENT FAMILY LEAVES FOR NEW HOME AT OLEAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gould and accomplished daughter, Doris Luella, departed on the morning flyer for Olean, N. Y., where Mr. Gould has entered the furniture business. Kenneth, their only son, will remain here until after commencement when he expects to enter either the University at Buffalo or Dartmouth College.

A farewell party was recently given Mrs. Gould by her neighbors and friends who very much regret to lose Mrs. Gould, a charming hostess, from their circle. Miss Doris Luella will be well and favorably remembered as the twelve year old musical prodigy of the Susquehanna College of Music. Her piano recitals have been a source of pleasure to local lovers of music and the admiration of Dean Thayer of the College.

Mr. Gould's business career in Clearfield has been extensive and prosperous. His first venture here was a five and ten cent store which was a success and which he later sold to the McCrory interests. He then embarked in the shoe business and was likewise successful in that. For two years he served as president of the merchant's bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and was rated as a conservative business man whose judgement and advice was always sound.

A host of friends are sorry to see this excellent family leave the city of Clearfield.

and to act in such matters between similar societies of other governments through the "Comite International de Secours," and the government and the people and the Army and Navy of the United States.

Fifth: And to continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same.

Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, is the president of the American National Red Cross, and the Act of Congress requires this corporation to "make and transmit to the Secretary of War a report of its proceedings for the preceding year, including a full, complete and itemized report of receipts and expenditures of whatever kind, which report shall be duly audited by the war department, and a copy of said report shall be transmitted to congress by the war department."

Any citizen or resident of the United States or of its dependencies may become a member of the American Red Cross by paying the membership dues of one dollar per year.

Membership imposes no obligation of personal service either in time of war or peace.

The mission of the American Red Cross in the present world war will be to first care for our own soldiers and then to help the destitute of the countries of our allies. As has been said above the American Red Cross is the legalized agency to carry on this work for the people of the United States.

The President of the United States has proclaimed the week beginning June 18th and ending June 25th, 1917 as Red Cross week. During this week the American Red Cross will undertake to raise one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000.00) to be used first in the care of our own soldiers, and then to relieve the millions of destitute in the devastated countries of our allies. It is told us that in northern France alone there are 3 millions of people who will starve unless relief gets to them soon—they are homeless and have absolutely nothing.

An appeal will be made to our people residing within the jurisdiction of the Clearfield Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross, to do their part in this great humane work, and a vigorous campaign will be waged during the week beginning June 18th, the plans of which will be announced later.

The Clearfield Chapter will make an effort to organize branches and auxiliaries in every town and village within its jurisdiction and will ask the people to come in and lend a helping hand in this great work.

The purpose of this article is to impress upon our people the fact that the American Red Cross is the agency provided by Act of Congress to perform this special work under the Treaty of Geneva which controls and regulates our activities in the present war. The American Red Cross is the agency that must look after and care for the Clearfield boys who have enlisted and our sons who may be called into the service of our country, and of the brave soldiers from every part of our land. Its mission should appeal to every one because it reaches and cares for the sick and wounded upon the field of battle and saves the destitute. Each man and woman and child can do his or her part, be it ever so little, and every one in due time be given an opportunity, will be asked to help—the motto of the American Red Cross is HELPFULNESS.

This Is Low Shoe Weather

Now That Weather Is More Summery Than We Have Had Thus Far It Brings Thoughts Of Low Shoes For Summer.

We have retained all the old price-marks on our stock of oxfords for the whole family that were on last season and are passing the saving along to you. There is a great saving represented here and if you are alive to the fact that shoe costs are advancing right along and the end is not yet, you will come in and take advantage of our offering.

SUMMERY DRESS GOODS

They're here aplenty. Colors are just what they should be and the material consists of voiles, organdies, crepes and the like for those sheer summery dresses that will be an aid in getting through the coming warm weather in comfort.

MATting RUGS FOR YOUR PORCH

My, but they sold. Lots and lots of people bought them last week-end and, on account of their really exceptional values, they will give the maximum amount of service. There's one you'll like—want it?

CURTAINS FOR THE JUNE BRIDE'S NEW HOME

For new home makers we are ready with an unusually pretty assortment of curtains both ready made and piece goods. The prices will suit most any pocketbook as the range is wide.

COVER YOUR PORCH FURNITURE WITH CRETONNE

It adds just a touch of distinction that nothing at many more times the cost could possibly do. Chair, cushions and porch swings that have seen service for a long time will look almost like new with just this added touch of brightness.
